BIOGRAPHY

Eunice is a seasoned attorney who litigates cases to resolution and consistently achieves favorable results for her clients in state and federal courts, administrative tribunals, and arbitrations. Eunice focuses her practice on representing health plans in various facets of health care law, including regulatory advice and counseling, compliance matters, fair hearings, rate-setting, contract drafting, and general litigation. In her practice, Eunice represents some of the largest health plans in California in managed care payor-provider disputes and regulatory actions against state agencies. Among Eunice’s achievements is her significant involvement in a case that was upheld by the Second District Court of Appeal in favor of DSR’s client, as well as successfully defending against a health care provider’s underpayment claim that was in excess of seven figures.

Eunice’s vast litigation experience prior to focusing on health care law includes her advocacy on behalf of national retailers, manufacturers, financial institutions, and public entities at the state and county level. Her previous experience includes prosecuting civil cases and representing plaintiffs in matters that were favorably resolved in excess of six figures. Having served as both plaintiff and defense counsel, Eunice possesses valuable perspective representing clients on both ends of the spectrum. Eunice’s experience as plaintiff’s counsel in complex liability cases provides a unique insight with respect to a plaintiff’s mindset and strategies in prosecuting cases, which is invaluable in building a successful defense to a case.
